

how employees really feel about collaboration

Both employers and employees think it's pretty important.

- 75% of employers rate teamwork and collaboration as "very important."
- 87% of employees and executives cite lack of collaboration for workplace failures.
- Of those who collaborate using mobile devices, 92% of them think mobile collaboration is "very important."

And collaboration is good for employee satisfaction and retention.

- Businesses with effective communication are 50% more likely to have lower employee turnover.
- 37% of employees say "working with a great team" is their primary reason for staying.
- 33% of employees say the ability to collaborate makes them more loyal.

But despite the general support for workplace collaboration, some organizations could be better at it.

- 39% of employees believe that people in their own organization don't collaborate enough.
- Only 5.9% of companies communicate goals daily.
- Only 18% of employees get communication evaluations at their performance reviews.
